

March 20, 2020 Update

Hayward Industries' Statement on the impact to product supply stemming from the outbreak of the Coronavirus

Hayward continues to monitor and adapt to the rapidly changing business environment as a result of the Coronavirus. Our intention is to communicate often and directly with our partners and customers to provide the best service possible.

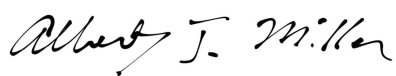

Multiple states have issued directives for all residents to stay at home or their place of residence except as needed for the critical infrastructure sectors.

Hayward will maintain operations in support of the national critical infrastructure for water, public health, and sanitization. We believe our supply chain, distribution channel, and trade professionals are included in the designation as critical. Should you need us to adjust our shipping schedules, implement extra protocols, or other requirements to meet your needs, please let us know.

All Hayward manufacturing plants and distribution centers will remain open and operating.

Hayward is with you during this unprecedented business environment. We will work through these challenges together for the health and safety of our customers, employees, and communities we serve.

Sincerely,

Albert Miller
Vice President Sales
