

03/30/2020 - Weekly Update

We wanted to personally update you on a topic that is on everyone's mind—the coronavirus (COVID-19). We know this is an evolving situation and want to share with you the various precautionary measures we are taking to continue to focus on keeping employees and customers safe and healthy.

For the safety of our employees and customers, we have restricted international and domestic travel, instituted flexible work plans, including working remotely and social distancing in our office and factory, and have increased our cleaning and sanitizing procedures in our building. SPECK is committed to you and your business operations. We are OPEN and continuing to build & ship product.

Our phone lines and website remain open as usual, and we continue our commitment to giving our customers the best possible experience. Reach out to us by phone during our normal business hours, Monday through Friday, 8 a.m.-5:30 p.m. EST, (800) 223-8538, and beyond those at our email, info.usa@speck-pumps.com, that we might answer any questions you might have.

At SPECK, our hearts go out to all who have been affected by the coronavirus. We want to assure you that our customers and employees are our top priority. Our business remains OPEN and we are committed to providing the best customer service and experience that SPECK is known for during this challenging time. We will continue to monitor the data and recommendations from the CDC and WHO and keep you informed.

Best Regards,
Jan Baljon - President
Taylor Baljon - National Sales Director
